

Privacy Policy

Effective January 1st, 2026

This privacy policy describes how The Lord's Turning Point website collects, uses, and protects your information. This policy is effective starting January 1st, 2026.

Information We Collect

We collect basic information about website visits to track the number of visitors and understand how our website is used. We also collect any information you voluntarily provide to us, such as your name, address, or phone number.

How We Use Your Information

We do not sell your information to third parties. We use the information we collect to:

- Track website visits and usage.
- Contact you with information about our ministry.
- Share information about major events.

Your Rights

You have the right to request to be removed from our records. To do so, please contact us through our website.

This policy is effective from January 1st, 2026.

Summary

This privacy policy outlines how The Lord's Turning Point website handles user data. We prioritize user privacy by not selling information and only using it for internal purposes such as tracking website visits and contacting users with relevant updates or event information. Users have the right to request removal of their data from our records. The policy is effective starting January 1st, 2026.
